PREFACE: About the League of Women Voters

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

The League of Women Voters is a nonpartisan political organization. We encourage the informed and active participation of citizens in government. The League acts in support of, or in opposition to, selected governmental issues which its members have studied. It does not support or oppose candidates, factions or political parties. League members, as individuals, may support candidates of the political party of their choice. In order to protect the League's nonpartisanship policy, guidelines regarding the political activities of the Board of Directors are reviewed frequently.

National League of Women Voters

Website: <https://www.lwv.org>

The League of Women Voters was organized in 1919 after suffrage for women was passed by Congress and ratified by the states. Since that time the League has kept pace with changing times. The League has worked hard to improve the legal status of women and the welfare of children and to improve legislation protecting the consumer. The League championed the re-organization of Congress, and has led the struggle to fight air and water pollution. The League is concerned about equal opportunities for all citizens in education, employment and housing. Many of the laws that were enacted in the past 100 years are still in force today. While many laws may be taken for granted today, the League's continues to promote legislation to improve the quality of life for Americans today.

Washington State League of Women Voters

Washington Territory was known for its suffragettes before Washington became a state. Women's Suffrage was first proposed in 1854. Women were given the vote in 1883. It was taken away in 1887 and finally restored in 1910 making Washington the fifth state to give women voting rights 9 years before the 19th amendment. The League of Women Voters of Washington was organized in 1920. Over the years the LWVWA has given sustained attention to issues dealing with the judicial system, election laws, government, state finances, children's services and the environment.

PREFACE: About the “Know Your County: Kitsap” Project

This publication is a report about the structure and function of Kitsap County government prepared by members of the League of Women Voters of Kitsap County with assistance from county staff. This project was first proposed by the LWV-Kitsap Bremerton/Central Kitsap Unit in 2018/19 to update information from Know Your City/County booklets first published by the League in 1966 and last revised in 2005. The goal then and now is to help the community know how local government, businesses, and citizens can interact in the best interest of the community. It is also hoped that this revised booklet will encourage an informed and active citizenry by providing comprehensive information on the structure and operation of Kitsap County government agencies.

We gratefully acknowledge the cooperation given by elected county officials, department heads and staff members. Resources utilized for this update include information from the Kitsap County website and public documents linked therein. We wish to thank Kitsap County elected officials and County staff for their help in providing additional input, review, and editing of final documents.

KITSAP COUNTY ASSESSOR

Phone	360-337-7160
Mail	614 Division St MS-22, Port Orchard WA 98366
Drop-Box	619 Division Street, Port Orchard, WA 98366 (Near the front door of the Administration Building)
Hours	Monday - Thursday: 9am to 4pm, Friday: 9am to Noon

The Assessor is elected by countywide ballot to serve a four-year term. The primary role of the Assessor's Office is to establish an assessed valuation of all real and personal property for tax purposes. The Assessor is required by law to assess all taxable property at 100% of market value. These values are used to calculate and set levy rates for the various taxing districts in the county, and to equitably distribute tax responsibility among taxpayers.

The Assessor's Office appraises property both by physical inspection and by market activity. Washington State Law mandates that property must be physically inspected at least once every six years, with an annual review and update based on sales analysis.

ADMINISTRATION

The Assessor's Administration Division is responsible for customer service and administering the property tax exemptions as defined by Washington State Law, including the senior citizen and disabled persons exemption/deferral, current use, designated forest land, nonprofit, and tribal land. This team also works closely with the 40 countywide taxing districts and calculates the annual levy rates as well as administers the business personal property valuation process. Administration also handles payroll, accounts payable and state mandated reporting requirements.

CADASTRAL

The Assessor's Cadastral Division is responsible for tax parcel boundary mapping and property records maintenance for the Assessor's Office. This includes segregations for new plats, short plats, taxpayer requests, deeds, court cases, boundary line adjustments, etc. The Cadastral group also process property split and merge requests, sales, and manufactured/mobile home data maintenance.

COMMERCIAL

The Assessor's Commercial Appraisal Division is responsible for the countywide valuation of all commercial and industrial property. Examples of these properties include commercial land, apartments, office buildings, warehouses, retail stores, restaurants, and marinas. The Assessor uses three recognized appraisal methods to value commercial property: the sales approach, cost approach, and income approach. The best method is considered and selected for each property type to calculate a final fair market value. Most commercial properties are valued using the income approach. The commercial division physically inspects a grouping of property types each year to collect and maintain accurate data and property characteristics. The remaining property types are reviewed and adjusted annually to ensure the assessed values are up to date with the current market conditions. Other duties include the inspection and valuation of all commercial new construction, reviewing splits and merges, and responding to assessment appeals.

RESIDENTIAL

The Assessor's Residential Appraisal Division is responsible for the countywide valuation of all residential properties. The Assessor uses mass appraisal methodology to calculate values on various property types. These property types include residential land, dwellings, and mobile homes. This division physically inspects one-sixth of the residential properties in the county each year to maintain accurate data and property characteristics. The remaining properties are reviewed and adjusted annually using statistical analysis of sales to ensure the assessed values are up to date with the current market conditions. Other duties include the inspection and valuation of all residential new construction, reviewing splits and merges, and responding to assessment appeals.

PROPERTY TAX EXEMPTIONS & TAX RELIEF PROGRAMS

Washington State Law provides limited property tax relief on real property. There are six primary programs:

- Senior Citizen or Disabled Persons Exemption & Deferral Program
- Deferral of Taxes for Homeowners with Limited Income
- Current Use - Farm & Agricultural Land, Open Space & Designated Forest Land
- Residential Improvement Exemption
- Destroyed Property Exemption
- Nonprofit Organizations

The four Kitsap County District Court Judges are elected in non-presidential even-numbered years, also known as midterm election years, unless they are being elected to fill a vacancy. Terms are four years and all races are nonpartisan. If only one candidate files to run for a judge position, that candidate is considered elected and the term begins the second Monday in January. If the candidate is elected to fill the remainder of a term, that term begins once the election is certified.

District Courts Jurisdiction

District courts are trial courts in Washington that have exclusive jurisdiction over small claims and infractions and concurrent jurisdiction with the Superior Court. District courts have jurisdiction over both criminal and civil cases.

Preliminary hearings for felony cases are also within the jurisdiction of the district courts. The maximum penalty for gross misdemeanors is one year in jail and a $5,000 fine. The maximum penalty for plain misdemeanors is 90 days in jail and a $1,000 fine. A defendant is entitled to a jury trial for these offenses. Juries in courts of limited jurisdiction are composed of six people.

Jurisdiction in civil cases includes damages for injury to individuals or personal property and contract disputes in amounts of up to $100,000. District courts also have jurisdiction over traffic and non-traffic infractions, civil proceedings for which a monetary penalty--but no jail sentence--may be imposed. There is no right to a jury trial for an infraction. District courts have jurisdiction to issue domestic violence and antiharassment protection orders and no-contact orders. They also have jurisdiction to hear change-of-name petitions and certain lien foreclosures. More information on these procedures can be obtained by contacting the Kitsap County District Court.

Small claims are limited to money claims of up to $5,000, or up to $10,000 when brought by a person. These are filed and heard in the Small Claims Department of the district court. Generally, each party is self-represented--attorneys are not permitted except with the permission of the judge. Witnesses may not be subpoenaed, but may be allowed to voluntarily testify for a party. Examples of cases heard: neighborhood disputes, consumer problems, landlord/tenant matters and small collections. The Kitsap County District Court clerk can provide specific information about filing a claim.

The Kitsap Prosecuting Attorney is elected at-large by county voters on a partisan basis and serves a four-year term. The prosecuting attorney and deputy prosecutors are members of the Washington State Bar in good standing.

The Kitsap County Prosecutor is responsible for

- Prosecuting all felony crimes referred by county law enforcement agencies and city law enforcement agencies
- Prosecuting all gross misdemeanor and misdemeanor crimes referred by county law enforcement agencies and the Cities of Bainbridge

Island, Port Orchard, and Poulsbo who have contracted with the Kitsap County Prosecutor's Office for prosecution services.

- Providing legal advice to all elected officials and county departments.
- Defending or prosecuting civil cases on behalf of county government.
- Litigating child support issues in cases referred by the State Department of Social and Health Services, Division of Child Support.

Criminal and Administrative Division: Felony Division

The Felony and Juvenile Division reviews and prosecute all felony crimes committed by adult offenders as well as all juvenile crimes in Kitsap County. A felony is any charge in which the maximum penalty exceeds one year. The Felony and Juvenile Division is responsible for a case from the initial review and charging, through the appellate process. The division also provides around-the-clock legal investigative support to all Kitsap County law enforcement agencies.

Deputy prosecuting attorneys review each referral from law enforcement for a felony offense. Once a referral is charged and filed, the felony division handles the criminal prosecution until there is a final disposition such as a guilty plea or trial with a jury verdict. The felony division will also handle all appeals to the Washington State Court of Appeals or Washington State Supreme Court.

General Trial/Vice Unit

The General Trial/Vice Unit prosecutes violent crimes, property crimes and financial crimes. The unit works closely with members of the local drug task forces, chemical dependency treatment providers, and community groups. This unit processes the majority of all adult felony referrals. Cases include burglaries, assaults, robberies, financial crimes, drug and firearm offenses.

Special Assault Unit

The Special Assault Unit (SAU) prosecutes sex offenses, crimes against children and crimes of domestic violence. The SAU building has office space available for the Kitsap Sexual Assault Center (KSAC), the Kitsap YWCA, Special Assault Investigation and Victim's Services (SAIVS), and local law enforcement.

Treatment Court Unit

Kitsap was one of the first counties in Washington to create a Drug Court program. The Treatment Court Unit, established in 2019, created a system that streamlined treatment court processes. With the success of the Drug Court, Kitsap added

- Veteran's Court
- Behavioral Health Court
- Human Trafficking Diversion Court
- Felony Diversion Program
- Residential Drug Offender Sentencing Alternative Program

The treatment courts are each designed to hold offenders accountable for their conduct, but also give them an opportunity for treatment and rehabilitation. The Treatment Court Unit screens all cases where defendants are seeking entry into a rehabilitative treatment court and ensures that defendants with violent history are not accepted.

The treatment courts are each designed to hold offenders accountable for their conduct, but also give them an opportunity for treatment and rehabilitation. Drug Court allows individuals that commit crimes because of their addiction, to seek help through chemical dependency treatment. Veterans Court is a program designed to help defendants who have previously served our country obtain assistance and resources to become productive members of the community. Often, a veteran's criminal behavior has a direct correlation to their service in the armed forces. The Human Trafficking Diversion Program is a unique program designed to connect victims of human trafficking with resources and treatment.

Juvenile Unit

The Juvenile Unit is responsible for the charging and disposition of all referrals of criminal conduct by people under the age of 18. The juvenile justice system is oriented toward rehabilitation. The unit works with defense attorneys and probation counselors to steer all appropriate incoming youth to our treatment courts so they can get the treatment, support, services they need, and have their cases dismissed if they successfully complete the program.

Appellate Unit

The Appellate Unit is responsible for most of the criminal appeals filed by defendants convicted in Kitsap County. An appeal is a claim made to a higher court alleging that a judge presiding over a trial or hearing made a legal mistake. Unlike a trial court, the appellate court does not take evidence or hear testimony. It makes its decision solely on the written record which consists of the documents filed in the trial court and the transcript of the trial and hearings prepared by the court reporter. Trial Lawyers check with the appellate unit when faced with a choice that may produce reversible error. Much of the time--the job of the Appellate Unit is to convince the appellate court that the trial was proper and fair.

Appeals from the District and Municipal Courts go to the Superior Court. Appeals from the Superior Court generally go to the state Court of Appeals and the state Supreme Court. The state Supreme Court, in its discretion, may choose to hear appeals from the Court of Appeals. In rare instances the state Supreme Court may also choose to hear appeals from the Superior or District and Municipal Courts.

Criminal and Administrative Division: District and Municipal Court Division

The District and Municipal Court Division prosecutes misdemeanor and gross misdemeanor crimes, which are defined by law as cases that are punishable by a year or less in custody. The division handles pre-charging review, charging and disposition, trials, and appeals for these crimes as well as appearing for contested infractions. The District Court's jurisdiction includes all of Kitsap County and the division also prosecutes cases on behalf of the cities of Bainbridge Island and Port Orchard.

DUI prosecution continues to be a priority for the division. One experienced deputy prosecutor is assigned the primary responsibility of DUI litigation, which also includes prosecuting felony DUI offenders in Superior Court. This DUI deputy prosecutor focuses exclusively on tracking changes to DUI law, educating law enforcement on these changes, and identifying and prioritizing prosecution of repeat DUI offenders.

The District Court and Municipal Court Division are considered rehabilitation courts. Therefore, a case disposition may require the defendant to undergo and successfully complete alcohol or chemical dependency treatment, victim impact panel, defensive driving classes, domestic violent treatment, etc. Because many of the crimes involve suspended driving privileges, defendants are often given an opportunity to clear up their licensing issues and become fully insured, licensed drivers, which is a benefit to them and to the community.

Family Support Division

The Family Support Division is responsible for establishing and enforcing child support obligations within the county. The regular and reliable receipt of child support is an important component in the effort to reduce poverty, move families toward self-sufficiency, and alleviate the taxpayer burden.

In cooperation with the state Division of Child Support (DCS), the Family Support Division accepts referrals for the establishment of paternity and reviews and modifies support orders meeting state criteria. The division also enforces support obligations through civil contempt proceedings and, when public assistance has been paid on behalf of a child, appears in privately filed domestic relations cases to address the state's financial interest.

The Family Support Division administers the referral process of obtaining new orders for those requesting state services in modifying their child support obligation. The division collaborates with DCS to attain "right-sized orders" that fit a parent's true financial circumstances. The division interacts with a cross section of the community in areas such as domestic violence, child abuse and neglect, employment, health and poverty reduction.

Civil Division

The Washington State Constitution and state statutes vest the legal function for county government in the Office of the Prosecuting Attorney. The Civil Division provides comprehensive legal services to more than 50 elected and appointed officials, departments, divisions, and affiliated agencies.

Deputy Prosecuting Attorneys in the Civil Division provide independent and ethical legal services to county officers and employees while protecting the constitutional rights of our citizens. By handling these matters in-house, Kitsap County saves millions of dollars in legal fees. Such cost savings are achieved not only by the lack of profit added to overhead (the State Constitution prohibits the making of profit out of county or other public money), but through familiarity with county operations and personnel.

Deputy prosecutors in the Civil Division work closely with county clients on a wide range of legal issues covering virtually every aspect of civil law. Examples include:

- Contracts
- Open Public Meetings
- Public Records
- Elections
- Property Taxes
- Revenues and Finances
- Labor and Employment Law
- Tort Defense
- Land Use
- Human Services

KITSAP COUNTY SUPERIOR COURT

Website	https://www.kitsap.gov/sc/Pages/default.aspx
Email	SuperiorCourt@kitsap.gov
Phone	(360) 337-7140
Address	614 Division Street MS-24, Port Orchard, WA 98366
Hours	Monday – Friday 8:00am – 12:15pm and 1:15pm – 4:30pm

Kitsap County’s eight Superior Court Judges are elected in presidential election years, unless there is a vacancy. Terms are four years and all races are nonpartisan. Elections to fill a vacancy in a Superior Court position can be held in odd-numbered years to fill an unexpired vacancy mid-term, following the Governor’s appointment of a candidate to fill the unexpired term. If only one candidate files to run for a judge position, that candidate is considered elected and the term begins the second Monday in January. If a candidate is elected to fill the remainder of a term, that term begins upon the appointment of the Governor and is formalized once the mid-term election is certified.

Superior Courts Jurisdiction

Because there is no limit on the types of civil and criminal cases heard, superior courts are called general jurisdiction courts. These courts have "exclusive jurisdiction for felony matters, real property rights, domestic relations, estate, mental illness, juvenile, and civil cases." Superior courts also have authority to hear cases appealed from courts of limited jurisdiction.

With very rare exception, all superior court proceedings are recorded so a written record is available if a case is appealed. Appellate courts can then properly review cases appealed to them. Some superior courts use digital video recordings or audio instead of the customary written transcripts prepared by court reporters. Juries for most Superior Court cases have 12 jurors; some civil juries may only consist of 6 jurors.

Juvenile Court

Juvenile court is a division of the superior court, established by law to deal with youths under the age of 18 who commit offenses (offenders) or are abused or neglected (dependents). Like adults, juvenile offenders are sentenced according to a uniform set of guidelines. Taking into account the seriousness of the offenses committed and the history of the subject's prior offenses, the guidelines establish a range of sentences, and sentence conditions.

A juvenile sentence or disposition outside the standard range is possible if the court finds the standard disposition would amount to a "manifest injustice" to the juvenile or to the community. Dispositions within the standard range are not appealable; manifest injustice dispositions are.

Dependent children are usually placed under the care of the state's Department of Children, Youth and Families (DCYF). Courts frequently place such children outside the home for varying periods of time.

 - South Kitsap Regional Park - This 204-acre park in south Kitsap has soccer and baseball fields, along with tenants Casey’s Batting Cage and the Kitsap Live Steamers. Recent improvements have been made to the playground, skatepark, and perimeter trails.
 - Fairgrounds & Events Center - The 130-acre Fairgrounds & Event Center near Silverdale is the most visited site in the park system. It contains an athletic complex, the Pavilion Event Center, an Equestrian Arena, tennis court complex, and two multi-use athletic fields. The various on-site, fair-related buildings are heavily used for a variety of recreational purposes and rentals for private events and shows throughout the year.
- WATERWAYS AND WATERFRONT PARKS -
 - Freshwater lakeside parks include Buck Lake, Island Lake, Long Lake, Horseshoe Lake, and Wildcat Lake
 - Saltwater parks include Point No Point, Norwegian Point, Salsbury Point, and Arness Park. Port Gamble Forest Heritage Park has 1.5 miles of undisturbed saltwater beach and shellfish beds, fronting Port Gamble Bay.
- LEGACY PARKS & PROPERTIES
 - McPherson-Howe Farm, in Port Orchard, provides a living-history and demonstration farm at this historic property. The Children’s Garden and Veteran’s Garden provide gardening opportunities for at-risk youth and our military communities. Other opportunities for conservation education highlight Salmonberry Stream and 15 recent beaver dam and pond construction.

- Other legacy properties include Harper Park, site of an old brick factory; the 1906 schoolhouse at Kola Kole Park in Kingston; and the Veteran’s Memorial Park in Port Orchard.
- SPECIALIZED-USE PARKS - Distributed throughout Kitsap County, these “stand-alone” parks provide recreation facilities for skateboards, dog-lovers, and golfers. They include:
 - Rolling Hills and Village Greens golf courses
 - Bandix Dog Park
 - Silverdale Rotary Gateway Park
 - South Kitsap Regional Park Skate Park
 - Kingston Billie Johnson Skate Park.
- PARTNERSHIP PROPERTIES - These are county-owned park properties that are cooperatively managed and maintained with non-county partners.
 - The Kitsap Forest and Bay Project, a collaborative planning effort by recreation and conservation interest groups, Tribes, and agencies, and envisions acquisition priority for five blocks of land, up to 7,000 acres in that northern district. These include Hansville, the North Kitsap Heritage Park Expansion, the Divide, Port Gamble Upland and Port Gamble Shoreline blocks. These large tracts of forestland contain ecologically important streams, wetlands, and forest habitat, more than two miles of shorelines, and tidelands. These lands typically serve the County for diverse and passive recreation opportunities.
- OTHER PARK SYSTEM PROPERTY ASSETS:
 - Trail Systems provide for diverse recreation needs for outdoor exercise, adventure mode of park travel, and exploration within our larger park areas. They serve a wide range of trail users, including walkers, people with strollers, runners, hikers, dog walkers, equestrians, wildlife observers, and mountain bikers. Trail facilities including trailhead parking and trail infrastructure components.
 - Open Space and Greenbelts are important contributions to the natural character of Kitsap County. These “parklands” are largely undeveloped and provide protection for regionally significant wildlife habitat, native vegetation, viewsheds, and greenbelts which buffer the impact of developing communities. These landscapes may offer limited public access and use and are managed to maintain resource quality.
 - Sustainable Harvest Forest Lands are large acreages (more than 100 acres) which are to be designated as intensively managed forests intended for propagation, growth, and sustainable harvest of renewable forest products. Regular maintenance, thinning, and replanting after selective harvest is part of the sustainable-forest management plan. Certain recreation activities and facilities are suitable and compatible with long-term forest management strategies. Net revenues derived from harvested forest products support the County Park system and natural resource management needs.

Roads

The Public Works Road Division maintains, operates, and improves over 900 miles of roads situated in unincorporated Kitsap County. This effort requires approximately 150 engineers, surveyors, planners, technicians, road workers and others who are dedicated to preserving and enhancing the County’s transportation network in a safe and cost-effective manner.

Funds required for operation and maintenance of County roads are primarily derived from the road levy portion of citizen’s property tax, Kitsap County’s allocation of the state motor vehicle fuel tax and various state and federal grants.

The Road Division is divided into three sections, each providing specialized services to County residents:

- Road Maintenance

Maintenance and preservation of the road system is performed by approximately 70 workers operating from road shops in north, central and south Kitsap. These workers are responsible for road paving, chip seals, roadway repairs, routine sweeping, vegetation management and other tasks. The maintenance group also provides 24/7 response for snow and ice conditions, weather related emergencies and other events.

- Traffic Operations and Transportation Planning

Assuring that the County-maintained road system operates in a safe and efficient manner is the responsibility of the Traffic Operations and Transportation Planning section. This group is composed of approximately 25 engineers, planners, and technicians responsible for traffic signal and sign maintenance, striping, and roadway markings. The traffic group also analyzes and investigates accidents and other safety related items and develops concepts for improvements. Staff members also coordinate with the Department of Community Development to evaluate and mitigate the impacts of private development.

Another primary function of the Traffic section is planning for future transportation improvements. The Department’s transportation planners participate in development of the County's comprehensive plan and coordinate with other groups and agencies to develop the six-year Transportation Improvement Program (TIP). The TIP process outlines priorities for preservation, safety, mobility, non-motorized and environmental enhancement projects and provides a cost constrained plan for implementation.

- Engineering

The primary function of the Department's Engineering section is to design and construct roadway improvements identified on the adopted TIP. This effort requires a dedicated and professional staff of approximately 40 engineers, surveyors, right of way agents and construction managers working collectively to develop designs and bring them to life on the ground. Successful transportation projects require expertise in engineering design, survey mapping, right of way acquisition and contract management, and, an ability to bring these skills together to cost effectively address the need, address potential environmental impacts and respect private property rights.

In addition to new construction, this group also manages private construction activities situated in County right of way, acquisition of land for other County departments and a variety of other services vital to county government.

The three sections described above work collectively and interactively to manage the County's transportation network. The goal of the Division's work is to develop, operate and maintain safe and efficient roadways that meet the public's expectations and respect the natural and manmade environment.

Sewer Collection and Treatment

Kitsap County manages five wastewater collection systems (Central Kitsap, Kingston, Manchester, Navy Yard City, and Suquamish) and four treatment plants servicing Central Kitsap, Manchester, Suquamish, and Kingston.

Wastewater collection systems and wastewater treatment facilities in Kitsap County serve approximately 40% of the total County population; most of the rural population uses onsite septic systems. The Central Kitsap Treatment Plant serves all local septage haulers providing services to private septic systems, small batch treatment plants, and commercial businesses producing fats, oil, and grease waste. The Central Kitsap Treatment Plant serves all flows from the City of Poulsbo and Naval Base Kitsap facilities at Bangor and Keyport.

This Division also regulates and authorizes permits for property owners who connect buildings to the County managed sewer system. Regulations and requirements are in place to protect the health and environment of property owners, utility customers, and the public.

Stormwater Collection and Treatment Utility

The Stormwater Division is responsible for managing collection and treatment of stormwater runoff and implementing the requirements of the National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES) Stormwater Permit.

Our larger mission is to protect, sustain, enhance, and restore the quality of Kitsap County's surface waters to protect human health, support economic growth and recreational activities, and sustain a healthy, natural environment. We achieve this through a nationally recognized program and dynamic partnerships with local agencies and jurisdictions. Find out more at our Clean Water Kitsap site:

<http://www.cleanwaterkitsap.org/Pages/Home.aspx>

Our multifaceted program includes activities like:

- Capital Facilities Planning

The Capital Facilities program prioritizes and manages larger stormwater system improvement projects. These projects reduce the frequency and severity of flooding, improve water quality, increase fish passage, and provide habitat.

The Stormwater Division has designed and built several award-winning restoration projects, such as Manchester Stormwater Park, Whispering Firs Stormwater Park and the Clear Creek Floodplain Restoration project.

- Maintenance and Operations

Our field staff work to ensure the consistent function of all storm facilities including green infrastructure, low-impact development (LID) facilities and traditional infrastructure like pipes and storm drains, providing needed maintenance on a consistent basis, capturing critical performance data about asset condition, and repairing, replacing, or upgrading our infrastructure, as necessary.

- Asset Management

Our Asset Management program works hand in hand with the Maintenance program, inspecting public, private and commercial stormwater facilities to ensure their function, responding to public inquiries and complaints, maintaining a database that tracks all stormwater assets, coordinating the rehabilitation and replacement of exhausted or failing assets, and designing necessary system retrofit projects.

- Water Quality Protection

Our Water Quality team works with our community partners on keeping pollutants from reaching our natural water bodies, using tools like education and outreach, water quality monitoring and illicit discharge detection and elimination. These teams are responsible for activities that evaluate effectiveness of stormwater management actions and assess receiving water quality, detect and address spills and illicit connections, raise public awareness about stormwater pollution sources and facilitate behavior change, and providing school-based education programs.

- Water Resource Planning

Careful planning on a watershed scale helps to make sure that people, fish and wildlife continue to have abundant, clean water. The County collaborates with community partners to identify and apply strategies for protecting water resources while accommodating planned population growth.

Equipment Services

Equipment Services is responsible for the purchase and maintenance of all County vehicles and heavy equipment. Primary services provided include vehicle and heavy equipment acquisition, replacement and surplus for all County Offices and Departments; vehicle and heavy equipment maintenance and repair for all County equipment; maintenance of our County fueling stations

This division manages the acquisition and inventory of all road materials, vehicle parts, tires, fuel, and sign supplies. We manage all vehicle and equipment recalls and apply manufacturer warranties on all County-owned equipment and vehicles. We also purchase and maintain the Public Works 800mhz 2-way radio system used to communicate between fleet vehicles.

Most vehicle and equipment repairs are done in one of three Kitsap County Road Shops. In addition to maintenance bays these shops provide storage areas for materials and seasonal equipment. The North Shop is on the outskirts of Poulsbo, the Central Shop is in Bremerton, and the South Shop is in Port Orchard.

To keep our fleet operating effectively, we provide, manage, and maintain six fueling sites. This allows employees to increase efficiency and avoid delays in the refueling process. These fueling stations are strategically located throughout the County allowing employees to refuel efficiently close to where they are working. We have a small number of electric vehicles in our fleet and add to that number as technology advances bring new electric vehicle types and equipment online.
